GUIDELINES

Deadline for Applications and Three Letters of Reference: October 15, 2010

OVERVIEW

The Visiting Scholars Program (VSP) is an interdisciplinary research fellowship housed at the headquarters of the Academy in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Its purpose is to stimulate and support research by promising scholars and practitioners in the early stages of their careers and to foster exchange between an emerging generation of scholars and Academy members with shared interests.

To accomplish this goal, the Academy offers scholars the opportunity to combine independent research with active involvement in its programs and activities. Visiting scholars are expected to participate in seminars and other Academy events. They also benefit from institutional partnerships with local universities, libraries, and research institutes in the Boston area.

The Academy conducts the Visiting Scholars Program in association with the Harvard Humanities Center, which provides access to the university's research facilities and works with the Academy to plan joint lectures, seminars, and informal discussions.

A group of 53 academic institutions from across the country have become "University Affiliates" of the Academy, with a special interest in developing and supporting the VSP. A list of our current University Affiliates can be found at <https://www.amacad.org/vsp/affiliates.aspx>.

APPLICATION MATERIALS

Applications are available at the Academy's website: www.amacad.org. For further inquiries, contact the Visiting Scholars Office at (phone) 617-576-5002; (fax) 617-576-5050; or by e-mail: vsp@amacad.org.

ELIGIBILITY

Preference is given to untenured junior faculty but the program is also open to qualified postdocs. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or have permanent resident status as of the application deadline date and should have completed a Ph.D., J.D, or equivalent professional training within the last 10 years. Graduate student applicants must complete all degree requirements by August 1, 2011.

TERMS AND STIPENDS

One of the goals of the Academy is to build a community of research scholars in residence; regular attendance at the Academy facilitates this goal. Research trips, interviews, attendance at scholarly meetings or speaking engagements should be limited to no more than twenty days during the fellowship term, and scholars may not accept any teaching appointment or other major commitments during the fellowship. Faculty can receive up to $60,000 (not to exceed one-half of current salary). Postdocs receive an annual stipend of up to $40,000. The Academy provides office space, computer services, library privileges, and assists with information on locating housing. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the Academy require that you have health insurance before taking up your residency.

SELECTION PROCESS

Committees of Academy Fellows and experts in relevant fields will review the applications and recommend candidates to the VSP advisory panel. Candidates will be informed of the decision in spring, 2011. Applications will be judged on the basis of:

- Clear exposition of the study to be undertaken; if you are planning to rewrite a dissertation for publication, please describe specifically how you intend to alter or expand your original work;
- Quality and significance of the proposed project;
- Reasonable work plan;
- Intellectual distinction of candidate's previous work;
- Relevance of proposed study to Academy programs;
- References—letters must relate directly to the applicant's proposed research; please do not submit standard dossier letters.

RESEARCH PROPOSAL

The Academy seeks proposals that relate to its primary research areas: humanities and culture, social policy and American institutions, science and global security, and education. A full description of Academy studies may be found online at www.amacad.org/projects.aspx. Projects that address American cultural, scientific, social or public policy issues from the founding period to the present are welcome. Candidates should consider the relationship of their work to archival, library, and other scholarly resources in the Boston area.

Statement about Participation in the Academy's Multidisciplinary Community

Visiting Scholars are members of an intellectual community dedicated to multidisciplinary scholarship and collaborative approaches to pressing cultural and societal issues. How would your work benefit from your participation in such a community and what contributions can you make to the Academy's broader mission of advancing knowledge in the public interest?
